Local security guide - Humpty Doo NT 0836 - Litchfield Municipality, Greater Darwin

About Humpty Doo

Humpty Doo is about 40 km south-east of Darwin City.

Humpty Doo is a rural town in the Litchfield Municipality south-east of Darwin, on the Arnhem Highway towards Kakadu, with a small town centre and acreage blocks with sheds, boats and machinery. At the 2021 Census, 4,313 people lived in Humpty Doo in about 1,357 occupied homes: 96% separate houses, 3% townhouses or semi-detached homes and almost no apartments, and 16% of homes were rented.

Housing and local context

Housing stock: Homes on acreage blocks, almost all separate houses, with sheds and outbuildings.

Humpty Doo is made up of homes on acreage and rural-residential blocks, with long driveways, sheds, boats and machinery out of sight of the road. About 96% of homes were separate houses at the 2021 Census. Distance from neighbours and the wet season make remote monitoring useful.

Common security concerns in Humpty Doo

- Sheds, boats and machinery on acreage
- Long driveways out of sight
- Distance from neighbours and help

Local tip: Sheds, boats and long driveways

About 80% of Humpty Doo households had two or more cars at the 2021 Census, and most acreage blocks have sheds, boats, quad bikes and tools well away from the house. Lock sheds and gates, record serial numbers, and fit solar cameras or driveway alerts that notify your phone, since help can be a long way off.

Before you hire: checklist

- Look up the licence number on the relevant state regulator register and confirm it is current.
- Check the ABN on the Australian Business Register (abr.business.gov.au).
- Hardwired 240V work needs a licensed electrician; in-wall data cabling needs an ACMA-registered cabler.
- For guards and patrols, confirm both the firm licence and each attending officer's licence.
- Get at least three written quotes listing camera models, recorder storage and warranty.
- Aim cameras at your own property and consider disabling audio on cameras facing shared areas.
